

"Pride in where and how we live"

Greetings!

On behalf of the team, we are glad you have chosen to support our bi-weekly updates.

So far...

This newsletter presents key milestones we have achieved already!

In Recent News

A brief overview of our latest work and how we celebrate that with you now.

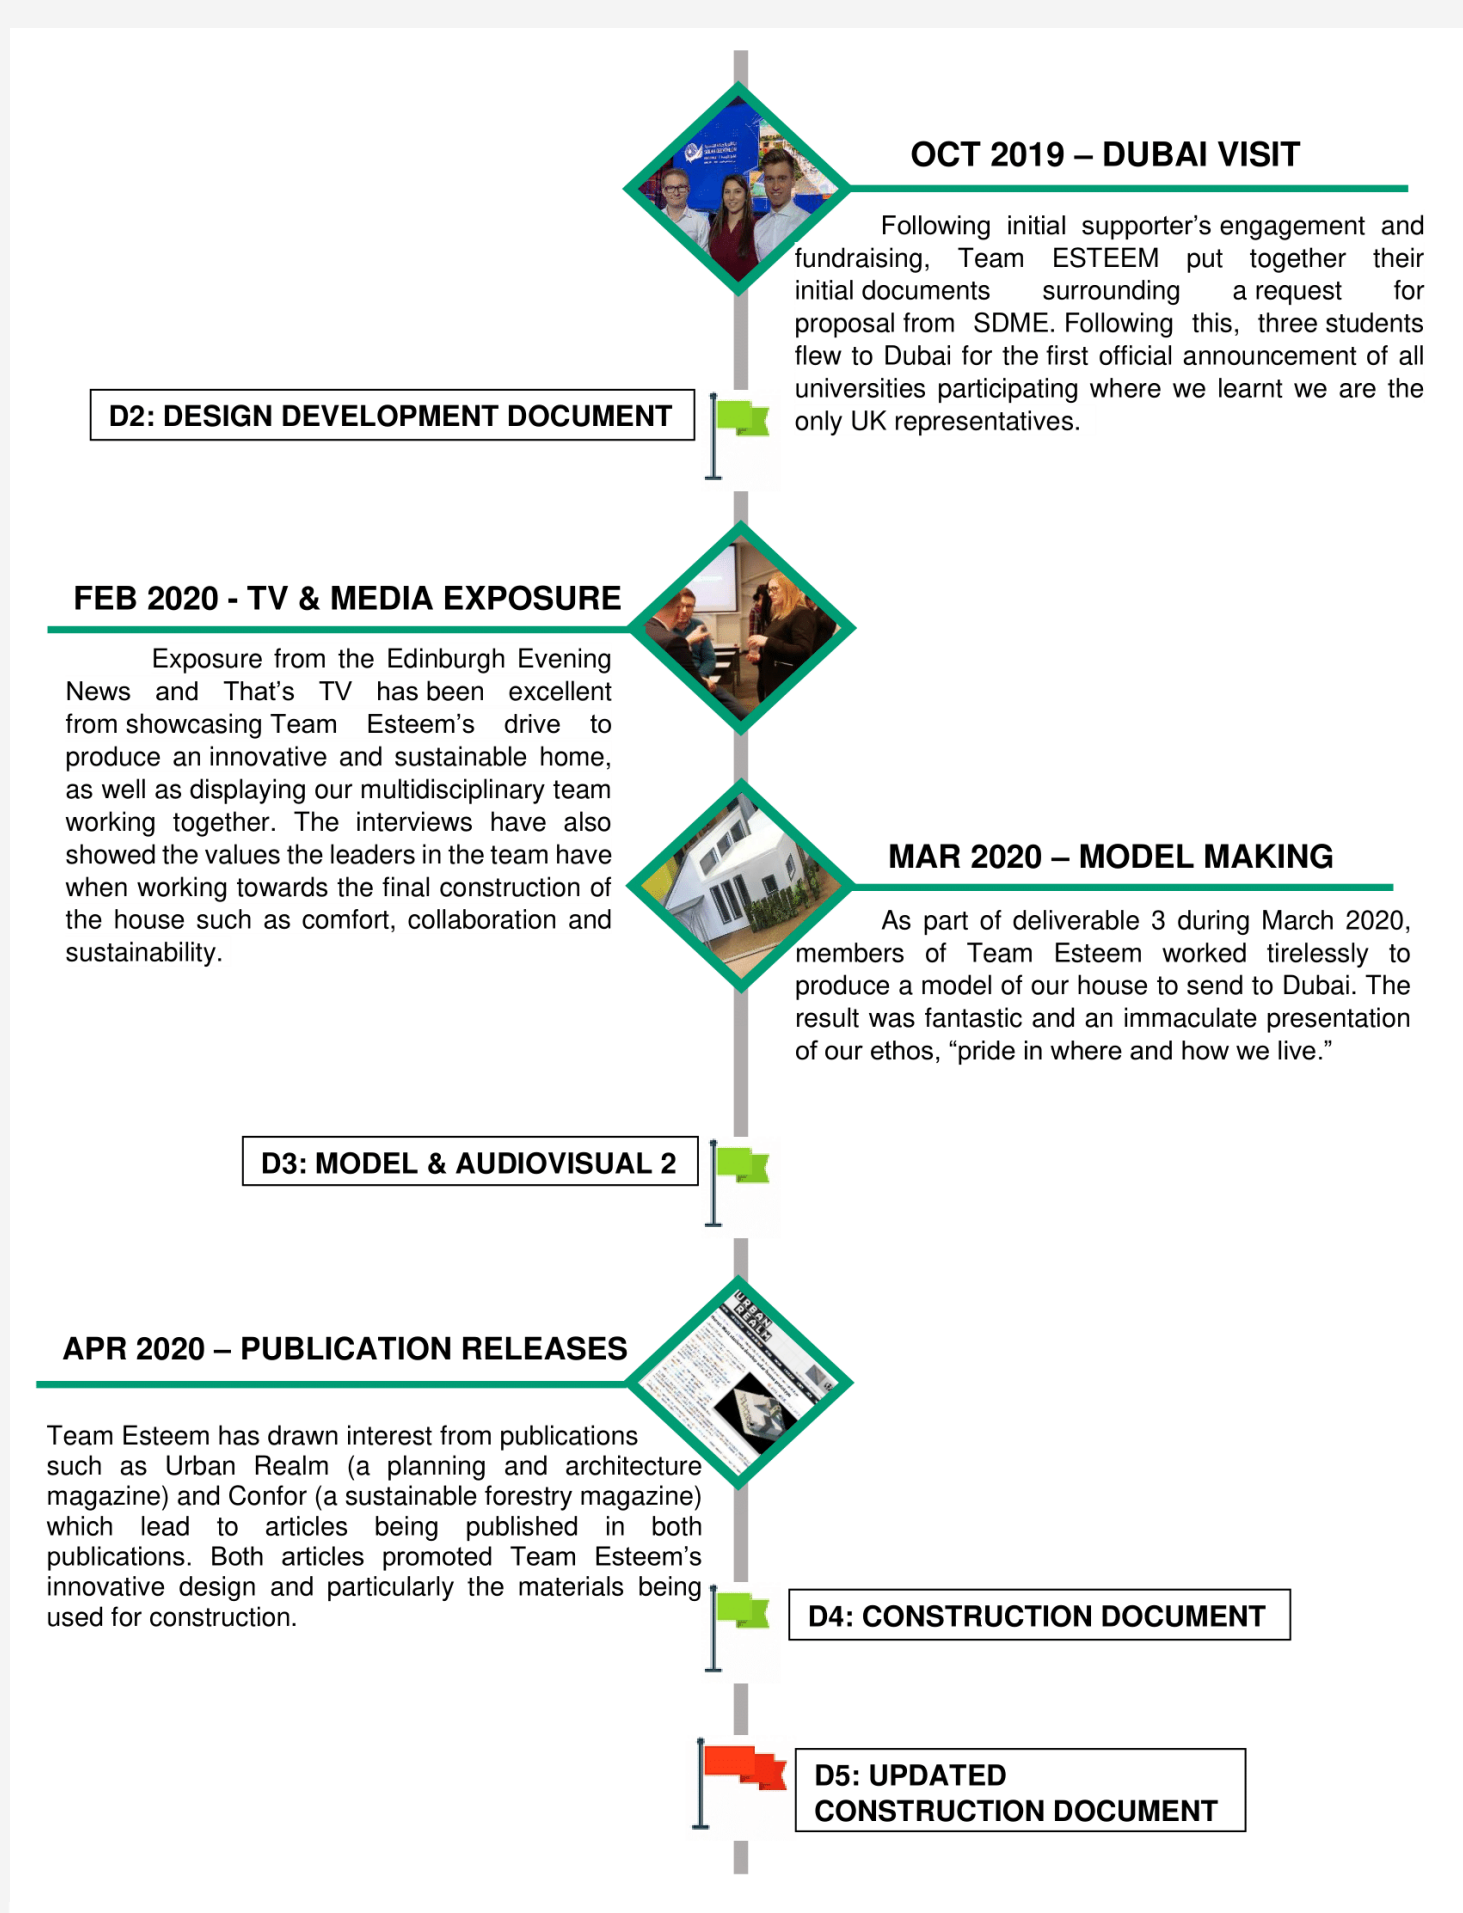

What's next?

The team shares our upcoming events which boost well-being and information sharing

Welcome to Issue 1 of the Team ESTEEM Bulletin!

Welcome all, to the first issue of the Team ESTEEM newsletter. We are excited to connect with you and make our relationship more special. We hope that sharing our updates, advancements, tips and cause for celebration will further develop your interaction with us.

Team ESTEEM Key Milestones

Team ESTEEM's Latest Achievement

From the first completed documentation sent in June 2019 – our design proposal and objectives - to our most recent (fourth) deliverable focusing on construction development was submitted with huge efforts from the team in mid May. The key outcomes for this documentation was to refine our design further to consider how each crucial element in the house comes together to be structurally functional, timely and safe to name a few.

Covering all key aspects of the house from architecture, interior design, structural, MEP, PV, construction details, site operations and health and safety, the one hundred project drawings and subsequent project manual visualises exactly what the students are capable of.

The achievement comes among global hardship where the team have worked remotely away from campus and one another; upon hours of teams calls to collaborate and put our knowledge and design together in a digital package. Our resilience has prevailed through sudden changes of plans particularly regarding how we anticipated the assembly of vital information.

This deliverable is a huge milestone that brings together all our hard work and we are immensely proud to have put this together. Nonetheless, much of the key information and decisions could not have been made without the input and support from working professionals and teaching academics from Heriot-Watt University. As we smile about what we have achieved, so should you.

FRI 12th JUNE

Workout with our team using our live links posted on Facebook and Instagram at 7:30pm.

Boost fitness and well-being as part of a sustainable, happy lifestyle.

Upcoming Events

MON 15th JUNE

Meet the team with questions asked to members of the team each week.

You can see our previous interviews posted here.

This e-mail has been sent to , click here to unsubscribe.

Team ESTEEM

info@teamestem.co.uk

Heriot-Watt University, Edinburgh

